Dear Clr. Crist:

It has always been my understanding that legally speaking any correspondence, whether sent by email or snail-mail, must be circulated to Mayor and Council if that is how it is addressed.

In the message, you seem to be implying that Staff was prepared to just receive and file this item, without it being forwarded to the addressees. Is this correct and, if so, does that explain why several of my own letters which were addressed to Mayor and Council, have rarely been acknowledged?

Sincerely,

Liz James
