If I recall correctly, during the Upper Capilano Local Planning Process in '98, the District conducted a mail drop (a flyer) to all addresses in the area. I believe the post office charged around 6 or 8 cents for each one.

FYI - you may want to check with the Post Office re: delivery of unaddressed mail within a geographic area. I believe it is much cheaper.

Forget the bench or tree, I'd rather be anonymous if possible. The truth is that I intend to see the investment pay off in the way of better streets, sidewalks, lighting, etc. It would even be nice to drive down the road and not get humped four times.

I see the SVCA AGM notices got to all the houses today. I've also started another mailing for the speed humps to update everyone after the meeting on Thursday. I'd like it to be positive but Council and Staff have such a strong bias to keep the speed humps in place that that's unlikely. I suspect we're going to have to have another 100+ group drop into a council meeting the first or second week in February to try and make the point again.

The neighbourhood philanthropist! We'll have to dedicate a tree or bench or something to you. I'm not too surprised about the low funding. What really surprises me is that they have these silly funds if they don't really cover anything. I guess it makes the politicians feel like they are doing something. Robyn has informed me that we have $26 left in our fund after paying for the meeting although there are supposedly cheaper places around.

The costs should drop substantially once we get more emails and a cheaper meeting place.

Cheers,

Bill

I'd like to say I'm surprised but I'm not. I see that things like this are being reviewed now do to a lack of funds so I doubt that the 13¢ per capita will be in the next budget.

I wonder how much they will budget this year for more speed humps that people don't want?

I'd forget about going to the District for money. We can organize a group to support the community association and there is nothing wrong with passing the hat at the meetings. To help get things started I'll commit the $2,000 for this year and will continue to fund the mailings for the SVCA and the Speed Hump issue. I'd like to see at least four mailing per year for the SVCA and expect that there will be at least that many this year for the Speed Humps.

The district's generosity is underwhelming! 13 cents should pay for a lot of stamps? I guess we'll ask for donations at the door. I think it was Brian Platts that gave me the $2000 number but they have a much bigger area. The mailout we just did cost us $350 just to put things in perspective.

Thanks for the document. That clarifies it.

Regards,

Bill

Community Association

The allocation to each registered community association is based on 13 cents per capita, based on 1996 population data from Census Canada (we will be updating the allocation once we get small area data for the 2001 Census, but the overall size of the fund has not increased since the fund began).

See the policy attached.

Where did you get the figure $2000?
