Dear FONVCA: For your e-mail files. How does "B and C" account for those mountain bikers who also "live in a house on the mountain" ? (Some of whom are my neighbours.) --Monica Craver--

Do you not live in a house on the mountain? Does this not count in your crazy mind? I would hazard a guess that your own lifestyle does more environmental damage than bikes kicking up some dirt. Grow up, get some help. BTW mountain biking is just one of the hundreds of sports that can lead to injury, I am sure you know this and are just being ignorant.
