Dear Mayor and Council...:

This is a compiled "celebration" of DNV-sanctioned mountain biking (riding, building, trails, structures, etc.) over the last 10 Years (filmed on the North Shore, and elsewhere).

Hits and Misses :: 2001-2011 <http://www.pinkbike.com/video/230022/>

Key Quote: "Pretty much everyone got hurt during the making of this video...."

This is, after all, what DNV Council continues to endorse. Now, imagine what kind of beating the forest environment is taking. WHY? The problem with common-sense is the fact that it is no longer "common". You cannot hide the truth for long. The truth does have a nasty habit of sneaking out when you least expect it.

Mountain biking continues to be an inherently dangerous sport, and very environmentally destructive, too. I predict that the mountain bikers will become their own worst enemies, in due time. There is nothing more I can add to this ongoing "DNV legacy in the woods". The video and article completes it! So, now, I bid thee adieu in 2012. Take care.

Merry Christmas -- and, hopefully, another liability-free Happy New Year 2012!
