Dear Mayor and Council, and DNV Parks, too:

Yet, the mountain bikers keep a-riding... fa-la-la-la-laaa....la-la-la-laaaa....

So much tree fall over mountain biking trails and mountain bike structures on Fromme Mtn. It seems like they are falling like dominoes, these days...and the mountain bikers keep on riding and building, riding and building... (it is all soooo sustainable.... fa-la-la-la-la-la-la-la-laaa....)

Bobsled	17 hours	Slushy and wet. Downed tree has been removed at the bobsled entrance. Thanks!	view
Kirkford	17 hours	At least two trees down on the upper part of the trail right now. Falling trees sounding like gunshots all around due to the weight of the heavy snow on them. Be careful out there.	view
Crinkum Crankum	17 hours	Couple trees down . One major one. Uprooted tree took out the lower line near the end of the trail. Just above the uprooted tree is another tree that has broken but has not fallen yet. It is leaning precariously on another tree and looks pretty dangerous. See photo.	view
Mountain Highway	19 hours	Small tree down across the whole road	view
Dreamweaver	19 hours	Large tree down across trail, blocking trail - on the new climbing trail just above the intersection with BP. Down on some woodwork too.... :(view
Ladies Only	Dec	Big tree down just before Barts Bridge.	view

The tree is across mountain highway trail and across the entrance to bobsled. Nothing that can't be hopped over. There's light snow on the first part and on the large wood berm but otherwise the trail is fast and sticky and on Seymoour... fa-la-la-la-laaa...

The trees keep a-falling. The mountain bikers keep a-digging and a-riding. The mountain slopes will come a-sliding... Tick tock...Tick tock...Hickery Dickery Dock...

The "tipping point" of the NSMBA's consumptive activities, surpassed... auld lang syne... I bid my adieu, for good -- after actually staying on "the case" for one more year than I intended to, helping untangle a couple people caught in the web of mountain bikers' deceit: TK and VR! The Truth will come out. God willing! The MTB web is becoming so tangled, and DNV is clearly caught in the MTBers' web.... Happy New Year! It will be for me, as I kick the MTB dust off my feet. Keep pouring money into the NSMBA's brand ecological destruction, and you will get your just deserts. It is inevitable. It just can't be "sustained". Keep feeding the MTB addiction.
